The capture of bombs Sunday involved the seizure of documents inculpating 1,000 Filipinos who intended to rise against the Americans. Papers were also found showing a distribution of the city into districts and a careful assignment of leaders and followers. The general continued to keep the Boers on the move and pressed them closely Saturday and Sanday, giving them no time to make a prolonged them no time to make a prolonger stand, and when day broke he was with in striking distance of the enemy. Sunday night all the cavalry, artillery and infantry, the latter riding in wagons to increase the general mobility, started upon a night march with the object of turning the Boers' right. The flank operations were successful. The infantry and field batteries immediately made a feint attack upon the Boer front and, while this was proceeding, the cavality and light artillery got combinedely around the enemy's right flank, as arranged. The Boers were utterly surprised, and, finding their retreat threatened, field in disorder to the eastward, leaving Colesberg in General Fronch's hands.

London, Jan. 2.—At Modder River, General Boller's courts have discovered a Boer camp established in the vicinity of Springfield, southwest of Colenso, by a Free State commando. A similar movement was made at Modder river. A large force of Boers, it was reported, formed a new laager about 15 miles down the stream, at Kameelhoek.

Heliograph reports from Ladysmith showed that all was well on Dec. 31. The bombardment was being continued, but its intensity had relaxed. An official dispatch from Ladysmith confirms the report, cabled yesterday, that several officers of the Devonshire regiment were severely wounded by the explosion of a Boer shell in the meas tons.

The Daily Mail had the following dispatch, dated Jan. 1, from Rensburg:

"Yesterday afternoon a big force of cavalry and infantry with ten guns, under the personal command of General French, moving by detour, occupied some hills three miles from Colesburg, where the Boers were in strength, con fident in the natural aid afforded them by the hills around:

The official procession moved down the stairs and through to the blue parlor, where the receiving party was to take its stand. Mrs. McKinley bowed and smiled to the little crowd of favored spectators who filled the end of the corridor to witness this opening act of the day's ceremonies. As she turned into the blue room she kissed the lips of her white gloved fingers to some of the children who waved their hands to her from a point of vantage near the door.

The troublesoms question of precedence between the army and navy was settled in favor of the former, General Miles leading the military contingent, with Adutant General Corbin at his left side. After the army had passed in review Admiral Dewey, with the venerable Admiral Melville on his arm, led the line. Mrs. Dewey was with the receiving party and was escorted in on the arm of Secretary Long.

The diplomatic corps, which headed the list of guests, was always the show feature of the reception. Lord Paunoefole, the British ambassador and dean of the corps, led the way. The display of uniforms was brilliant, Turkish fez, gilded orders of the continental powers, the fur-trimmed tunics and high, pollahed boots of the Russians, the queer, sare green, gold encrusted uniforms of the Japanese and the ermine-trimmed silken robes of the Korcans and Chiness all combined to form a picture of unusual brilliancy.

Following these the American officials, judges of the Supreme court, senators and representatives, department chief and the like, made a longer if less striking procession. The ruception to the general public concluded the function.

CUBANS' NEW YEAR.

A Parade In Havana About Midnight dent McKinley.

HAVANA, Jan. 2.—The New Year was ushered in with a torchlight procession which, forming just before midnight and preceded by a band, left the lower prado and made the circuit of the principal streets. About the only tune played was the Cuban national hymn. The strains of the popular hymn drew people to the windows and doorways, and the procession was greeted with wild enthusiasm. Small boys kept up a fireracker fusilade along the line of march.

All the prominent Cuban Generals were cheered, although there was no doubt that the vivas were chiefly for "Onba libre." President McKinley and Governor General Wood came in for a liberal share of popular applause. The procession have returned to the prado, and the band having once again played the Cuban National hymn, some Americans, who were present, called for the "Star Spangled Banner." The band immediately complied and the crowd cheered lustily. HAVANA, Jan. 2 .- The New Year was

About 950 mon who, by reason of long service in the company's employ have become incanacitated for further active duty, were retired on pensions that average nearly half the wages they received when at work.

It was understood that a sum approximating $300,000 is at present available for pensioning purposes, and that before the system can be extended to the lines west of Pittsburg a much larger appropriation will be necessary. No person priation will be necessary. No person priation will be necessary. No person of the Presbyterian church, but now a Protestant Episcopal clergy.

formerly of the Presbyterian church, but now a Protestant Episcopal clergyman and in charge of the pro-cathedral in Stanton street, the very centre of what is called "the infected district."

No set plan of campaign has been outlined, but the work will be pursued with aggressiveness. Much of its force will be derived from the fact that the British element of the district will lend a hand and in their quiet way bring the leaders of the crusade face to face with the situation. The politicians will be appealed to and if these appeals fail, then other means will be resorted.

FENIANS PLAN INVASION.

Storing Dynamite, Ammunition, Food Etc., Along the Canadian Border

Is New England.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Jan. 2.—It is reported that the Fenians are engaged in storing large quantities of dynamite, lyddite ammunition and supplies in a few selected repositories in remote districts in Vermont and Maine near the Canadian boundary line. The information comes from persons who claim to have knowledge of the purchase of some of the supplies and others who learned of their trusportation by railroad disguised as groceries.

Dynamite and other explosives have been secured in large quantities and stored underground on the Vermous border, while quantities of canned meats have been hidden in some large barns of sympathizing farmers on the Maine line near New Hampshire.

It is said that an efficient ambiance corps is being organized under the supervision of a few loyal Irish women and surgeons who were in the Red Cross work in Cuba.

A schedule is being arranged of farmers of the border states who can furnish wagons and horses and oxen for transportation purposes, as this is regr-ded as a most important detail. A careful study is being made of the small railroad branches in Northern New England and places are being located where the road could be captured by a very small force.
